Stormy weather

We seemed to have fared better than many but it was reported at the last Council meeting that: - The old sea wall at Cwm Ivy Marsh has collapsed so the path on the landward side has been closed and you now have to walk via Cwm Ivy woods. The wall itself is closed at both ends for safety reasons. There are signs at Frog Lane, Cwm Ivy and Burrows Cottage advising people of the diverted route. Sadly people are still walking the route removing the signs and snapping the tape. C&C Swansea are hoping to install a bridge to allow the route to be reopened but in the meantime, please do not walk that way or remove the signs. A notice at Hill End says that the steps at the Rhossili end of the beach have been eroded and there is a short diversion onto the Old Rectory roadway.

Dog Bin

Following requests a dog bin will be installed in Rattle Street Llanmadoc. We again ask dog owners to act responsibly, not let their dog foul Rhiwlas Green and to take the dog waste to a bin rather than hang the waste bags in trees.

Works

The firebreak behind Llanmadoc hall has been cleared. Burry Green improvements, the Council has decided to go ahead with clearing and restoring the ponds ourselves as grant assistance from the Million Pond Scheme placed certain conditions upon us. Hopefully this will be done in the spring as soon as the land is dry enough.

Panoramic Plate

A reminder that the Plinth will be officially opened on Saturday 12th April at 11.00 am by the Lord Lieutenant, or one of his deputies. This will be followed by refreshments at Llangennith Hall.
